POST OFFICE REVENUE BOOM

Year's Work Shows
Big Figures

HIGHEST ON RECORD

London, June 27.
Major Tryon, Postmaster General, last night announced that results of the financial year just to hand, constituted a record in Post Office history. In spite of reductions in parcel post rates, profit on postal services increased from £10,600,000 to £11,250,000. Though telephone rates and charges had been continuously revised and reduced new record in telephone profit had been achieved with a figure of £1,600,000.

The total Post Office income reached the unprecedented figure of £80,000,000 in spite of increases of over £2,000,000 in wages.

Side by side with the extended uses of mechanical and labour-saving devices, additional employment had been created for approximately 11,000 people in the Post Office alone and for many thousands more in outside industries associated with it.

Post Office commercial profits reached the high total of £12,250,000 as compared with £11,945,000 last year. The only deficit was on telegraphs which had increased to £900,000 as compared with £850,000 last year.—British Wireless.

GAOL TERM FOR ESPIONAGE

HEAVY PENALTY IN GERMANY

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Berlin, June 27.
A Czechoslovakian subject, Guenther Hoffmann, 22, and a German subject, Richard Lange, 26, were today sentenced by the "People's Court" to 18 and 15 years' hard labour respectively on charges of espionage and treason, according to an announcement by the Ministry of Justice on Saturday.

Hoffmann had accepted the proposal made by a foreign power to obtain information concerning the German air force and aerial defences and Lange had collected data regarding the strength, distribution and armament of the military forces in East Prussia in the autumn and winter of 1935. He was about to communicate the information to this foreign power.—Transocean News Service.

KING THANKS YEOMAN

Picturesque Review
At Palace

London, June 27.

A picturesque ceremony took place in the grounds of Buckingham Palace to-day, when the King wearing the full dress uniform as Colonel in Chief of the Welsh Guards, inspected the Royal bodyguard, known as the Yeoman of the Guard, who in their scarlet and gold uniforms are usually on duty at the Tower of London.

Queen Mary, from the Palace balcony was an interested spectator of the ancient ceremony, at which the King presented the captain and other officers with ebony sticks banded with gold and silver.

The King, addressing the men, expressed the pride he felt in the presence of Her Majesty in taking part in the annual inspection and thanked the bodyguard for the part they took in the ceremonies connected with the lying in state funeral of King George.

After mentioning that most of them had attended his father on many occasions he recalled that the bodyguard could trace its traditions through 451 years of its existence and said he was confident that these proud traditions would continue to be worthily upheld.—British Wireless.

MORE VISITORS

Foreigners On Trips
To England

London, June 27.

Figures issued by the Travel and Industrial Development Association show that the number of foreign visitors to Britain has exceeded that of 1935 in every month this year.

This is true even of May in which last year the Jubilee attracted abnormal numbers from abroad. Foreign holiday makers in England last month numbered 20,203 as against 18,747 in May 1935. In May 1936 there were 20,203.

Figures published do not take into account week-end and day visitors from France and Belgium. Foreigners who visited Britain during 1935 with no passport return excursion tickets numbered 51,677—about 40 per cent. more than in the previous year.—British Wireless.

OTTO "KING OF AUSTRIA THIS MONTH"

Paris, June 9.

The restoration of the Habsburgs to the Austrian throne at the end of June "is reported to have been envisaged during the conversations between Signor Mussolini and Dr. Schuschnigg recently," according to the "Euvre" to-day. The paper says:

"On the 26th or 30th of June, dates when the Council and Assembly of the League will take decisions which will certainly be displeasing to Italy, Italy will withdraw from the League, taking with her, not Austria, but Hungary, who will declare that for her the Trianon Treaty will cease to exist."

The newspaper says also that Herr Von Papen, the special German Minister to Austria, has informed the Monarchist leaders in Austria that they are making a mistake in opposing the Nazis because Herr Hitler no longer opposes the Habsburg restoration. Furthermore Von Papen told the Monarchists that Herr Hitler's plans include the restoration of a Holy Roman Empire.

It is added that certain Nazi Ministers will be imposed on the Archduke Otto when he returns to the throne.

The Treaty of Trianon is the post-war treaty between Hungary and the Allied Powers, reducing her territory and limiting her armaments.

TREASURY BILL TENDERS

London, June 27.

The total amount applied for in tenders for £50,000,000 Treasury bills was £67,555,000. The maximum amount was allotted in bills at three months at an average rate percent of 12/7/80d.—British Wireless.

Statistics

MANY MOTOR CARS

Geneva, June 26.

The June number of the League of Nations monthly bulletin of statistics, just appeared, gives besides the usual tables, information on world trade, agricultural and industrial prices, prices of industrial shares, motor production and activity in the building industry.

The Bulletin shows that industrial production has increased in recent months, especially in the United States, Canada and most countries where activity had slackened at the beginning of the year.

World production of fuel and several metals shows a considerable increase in the first three or four months of 1936, especially because of the improvement of affairs in the United States.

The world output of motor cars in 1935 was 5,172,000 of which more than 4,000,000 were from the United States, 417,000 from the United Kingdom, 245,000 from Germany, 173,000 from Canada, 166,000 from France and 97,000 from the U.S.S.R.

BUILDING ACTIVITY

Building statistics show special activity in South Africa, Australia, the United Kingdom, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Italy, Spain, and Chile.

The prices of industrial shares rose almost continuously in 1935 and the beginning of 1936 in most of the countries for which statistics are available.

The gap between the prices of agricultural products and industrial products tended to diminish in most countries in 1935.—League of Nations Press.

A BIG WORKS PROGRAMME

Combating French
Unemployment

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Paris, June 27.

A sum of 20,000,000,000 francs, spread over three years, will, according to the Socialist organ "Populaire," be demanded by the French Government in order to carry out a vast programme of public works destined to combat unemployment and stimulate economic activity.

The paper states that besides this sum the Government will have at its disposal the credit passed by the previous Chamber for a similar purpose at the request of the former Minister of Labour, M. Marquet, so that a total of 8,000,000,000 francs will be available annually.

The Government hopes to raise half this amount, according to the paper, before the end of the present year by means of medium-term and long-term loans. In the meantime the Treasury will be asked to advance 500,000,000.—Transocean News Service.

WORKERS TO RUN FACTORY

Novel Experiment
Tried

GOVERNMENT HELPS

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Paris, June 27.
Workers in an ammunition factory at Bouilliers, near Amiens, have with the consent of the owners, taken over the management of the factory themselves.

They had already struck and occupied the works in May because their demands for increased wages were unfulfilled.

It is impossible, however, for the owners to grant these demands since they are already involved in financial difficulties and the payment of higher wages would have meant closing down.

The French Government has now decided to give this plan a trial and will help to make it feasible by letting the workers' management have advances on Government orders, thus providing them with a cover at the start for eventual deficits.—Transocean News Service.

THE RELIGION OF A PIONEER

Yesterday's Sermon At The Cathedral

The following sermon was delivered by Rev. Baines at the Cathedral yesterday morning:—

"Thou shalt be called Peter," said the Master, "and on this rock I will build my Church." Yet by a tragic paradox this saying has proved to be the rock on which the Church has split. Into all that lamentable controversy I don't propose to enter this morning. But I wish to say something about St. Peter himself whose day it is to-morrow and the legacy of his spirit. It is the spirit of a pioneer.

It is one of the strangest ironies of history that has fastened on him the patronage of the most uncompromising rigidity in the record of religion. The shadow of Peter passing by has too often blighted spiritual freedom and enterprise and struck the soil of religious progress barren. Men have made him the patron of exclusiveness when in fact he was the apostle of generosity; of ecclesiastical conservatism when in fact he was a religious rebel. We all know the picture of St. Peter with the heraldry of the keys; but his mission was to open doors, not to shut them. The spirit of Peter was the spirit of the pioneer.

THE NAME SATAN

Wayward, impetuous, inconsistent, at one ghastly moment his courage deserted him; there were times when Simon son of John, the better of Peter and earned the name Satan. But at his heart there was a rock—the deep loyalty that never failed, the faith that would trust his master to the end and follow his lead wherever he went. On that rock Christ built His Church and the gates of hell cannot prevail against it. It is the rock of human character redeemed by loyalty to Christ; the rock of all that is so immensely lovable in the ordinary wayward man and woman of us redeemed in all its naturalness by the discipline of Christ's obedience. This it is which the prophet meant when he wrote "A man shall be as a refuge from the heat and a hiding place from the tempest, as the shade of a great rock in a weary land."

St. Peter was, I say, a spiritual adventurer. When a big demand was made on faith and insight it was he who was first to recognise the possibilities of the situation. And that is the test of spiritual genius, to see in a problem the opening opportunity.

TRUE FAITH

Imagine the great scene at Caesarea Philippi. It was Simon whose faith and love were true enough to acclaim in a discredited fugitive the King of the new age, the Lord of Life, the Desire of all nations. It is as though he said "Appearances are all against you. By the standards of the world you are facing disaster. But still we trust you, we believe in you, we believe that you hold the future and so we commit ourselves to you. Whatever appearances, however dark the night, thou art the Christ the Son of the Living God." And that is the true Peter, one who looks beneath the surface of things and sees real quality and gives himself to it.

Why, he even made an opportunity of the shame of his denial for it was he who first of all of the twelve disciples accepted the vision of the risen Master.

A PIONEER

Peter was a pioneer. As you may read, in the 11th Chapter of Acts it was he who first dared the spiritual venture of admitting the Gentiles to the Christian Fellowship thus it was he who committed the Church to its world-wide mission overleaping the barriers of privilege; therefore it is to him under God that we owe our presence here to-day. That trace at Joppa on the house-top when Peter saw the net let down was one of the turning points of history. For the modern mind it is hard to appreciate the tremendous spiritual issues which for a man of St. Peter's up-bringing were involved in the question of food laws. But it goes right down into the whole meaning of the Fellowship of Christ. How could the converts form a Christian brotherhood if they could not meet at a common table nor share in the bread and cup together? "What God hath cleansed call not thou unclean." Peter knew what a tremendous risk he took in going back on the Law which was the safeguard of Israel's spiritual heritage but he took it "Who was I?" he said in a final and devastating rejoinder "who was I that I should withstand God?" It was a risk; it might have smashed up the Church—it nearly did; but there was then as always the more dangerous alternative and that was to stand still and watch it freeze out. Those who opposed Peter and criticised him for his generosity were soon left in a spiritual back-water. The Christian future was with Peter and the legacy of his spirit is the spirit of the pioneer.

SPIRITUAL DEFEATISM

Is it not a tonic to think of Peter the pioneer, to remember his call to launch out into the deep? There is far too much spiritual defeatism. I grow weary of all the talk of the weakness of the Christian cause in face of a dead weight of materialism and lethargy. A Church content to stand on the defensive is a Church which has already written its will. There is no need for craven tactics. If we have the courage to make opportunities out of problems as Peter did then there are greater openings before us than there have been for centuries. After all what is there left? All other prescriptions are bankrupt, all other leadership discredited. Our people wait for a living faith and they want the Church of their fathers to supply it.

Let us follow Peter the pioneer in faith. To some it appears that the popularisation of the findings of modern science must be undermining the Christian faith. But the true conclusion is the exact opposite. The advance of the scientific temper and of scientific achievement both in the physical sciences and in psychology are opening up new fields to faith because they are banishing ignorance and superstition. I know that to be true in work that is being done for the children in Hong Kong through bacteriology and dietetic study of milk. I know that it might be true in Hong Kong if there were some among us, doctors, teachers or parsons who had made a thorough study of psychology. We need all to work thus to make a new creative theology the common possession of the whole Church.

THE SOCIAL HABITS

And again I am sometimes told here that the differences between our social habits from those at home and the new fashions in our thought and taste are destroying Christian, public worship. But what this means is that the whole tradition has got to be re-thought and re-translated into the terms and order that are true and fit for us. "The defect of the liberal theology of the last two hundred years" wrote Weatherhead, "is that it has confined itself to the suggestion of minor vapid reasons why people should continue to go to Church in the traditional fashion." That is playing with a serious subject. What is required is fundamental thinking about the whole relation of worship to work and leisure for adults, for adolescents and for children in the Twentieth Century. How are children to be introduced to Communion? What is the relation of statutory prayers to freer forms of worship for those who come to Church to-day? What form of marriage service will preserve both the dignity and beauty of marriages and also best express the love and thought of the Church for her children who are being married? Are we facing these questions honestly?

And so lastly with the moral direction of the changing patterns of our new age. The future is that of the pioneer who has built his house upon the rock. If we try to cling to a mere traditionalism, we shall become a sect of futile antiquarians in a social order gone pagan.

As the Voice once said to Peter "Launch out now into the deep." If we dare, our nets will break

DEFENCE LOAN IN FUTURE

Significant Hint By Chancellor

JUSTIFIED BY RISE IN INCOME TAX

(Special Air Mail Service)

Westminster, June 10. We are to regard the increase of the income-tax this year as "moral justification for borrowing in future." That significant statement was the climax of the Chancellor of the Exchequer's interesting defence of the main proposal of his Budget to-day.

He vindicated himself earnestly from the charge that he had underestimated revenue and that higher taxation was unnecessary. He gave some suggestive indications of his views on a loan for defence.

This speech was made in answer to some well-argued pleas from supporters of the Government that income-tax should be kept at the present level.

SURPLUS SUGGESTION

Mr. Mabane supported his contention that the Chancellor was budgeting for too much revenue by pointing out that in recent years the Treasury had covered itself against emergencies which had not arisen and the yield of income-tax had proved to be considerably in excess of the estimate.

Earl Winterton countered this by maintaining that the increase was actually required for rearmament and that it was far better to provide for such expenditure by taxation than, as in foreign countries, increase armaments through piling up debt. It was undoubtedly the fact that all classes of income-tax payers here were in a far better condition than the comparable classes anywhere on the Continent.

Mr. Boothby contended that the increase of 3d. was not yet necessary. It would have been better to put on 6d. next year if that were required.

Capital expenditure on rearmament should be provided for by loan, only recurring expenditure out of revenue. He urged continued credit expansion by controlled inflation.

Sir J. Wardlaw Milne predicted that this time next year we should find that the 3d. increase had not been necessary. He appealed for consideration to income-tax payers who had been hard hit by the lowering of interest on Government loans.

UNDERESTIMATE DENIED

Mr. Chamberlain, in his reply, maintained that some speculative element in a Budget was now inevitable. There were incalculable factors in income-tax. Yield of estate duty must be guesswork. They had only a short experience of the new Customs duties. On the other side of the account, expenditure in unemployment was uncertain, and equally uncertain appropriations for the defence programme.

Last year there were supplementary estimates of £14,000,000. He did not think there would be this year. We knew what we were going to do—as much as we could. But unexpected developments might vitiate calculations.

He had made the best estimates he could, and was not justified in writing up revenue to avoid an increase of taxation. With grave emphasis he declared that he had not underestimated revenue in order to provide for contingencies. He had taken what he believed to be an optimistic view.

A substantial increase of income-tax this year, Mr. Chamberlain continued, would have had a depressing effect which he was anxious to avoid. Though the rise of 3d. had caused shock, surprise, and disappointment, within a few days trade recovered.

His final argument was that if he had passed over this year and said, "You have got to expect increased taxation in the future the amount of which I am unable to define," he would have done much more to undermine confidence than by the increase of 3d.

with the number of fishes they contain.

But if all this seems to you to be unimportant—if all you want is a well trained choir to sing to you in a nicely furnished Church then remember the Voice which Peter heard on another occasion when he fell asleep "Sleep on now and take your rest; the Son of Man is being betrayed."

5,000 ACCLAIM GIPSY SMITH

Diamond Jubilee As Evangelist

SPEECH TO CROWD FROM BALCONY

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 12.

There were remarkable scenes at Central Hall, Westminster, last night when a mass meeting to celebrate Gipsy Smith's diamond jubilee as an evangelist brought more than twice as many people as the place could hold.

When the doors were opened a crowd estimated at 5,000 poured in. The main hall was packed in a few minutes and the two halls on the ground floor were then filled. The speeches were relayed to these and to the entrance halls.

A crowd of several hundreds was left in the street. Gipsy Smith, who is 75, addressed these from a balcony window before entering the hall.

Congratulatory messages were read from, among others, the King, Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Baldwin and the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Mr. Lloyd George said Gipsy Smith's message was more than ever needed now, in a world nearer to the brink of the abyss than he dared to think, a world where wrong was triumphant and righteousness was timorous, fearful, inept, beaten.

The great audience, which had risen to its feet for Mr. Lloyd George, rose again for Gipsy Smith, who was accompanied by a son and daughter and other relatives. He sang a hymn with his daughter before his speech.

THE FINANCE LETTER

TO-DAY'S PRICES

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 5.
In the last week London financiers have shown signs of taking the threat of political changes, perhaps even of hostilities on a large scale, in the Far East pretty seriously. Through the vicissitudes of Chinese and Japanese struggles
the Stock Exchange has continued to assess Chinese bonds at a relatively high price.

This is still so. At to-day's prices, for example, the 5 per cent loan of 1912 (£89), the 5 per cent
1913 (£83), and the 4 per cent
1898 (£95) are all among the foreign bonds on a relatively low yield basis, as contrasted with German 7 per cent at 257,
Hungarian 7 per cent at 233. That is because the service of these bonds is secured by the Customs and salt duty receipts of the Chinese Government, which are administered by an organisation headed by an Englishman. In the last month, however, investors in China stocks have learned from that official himself and from other informants of the progressively serious risks of their prior claims being ignored or circumvented.

First of all, over a portion of the coastline the Chinese Government is unable to assert its authority sufficiently to prevent smuggling. By smuggling goods into Northern China the Japanese no doubt have their attention chiefly on gaining markets. They are, in fact, keen to impose an approximation to free trade upon North China. As a beginning, they are claiming the right to free trade for themselves. Incidentally, they deprive the Customs authorities of revenue. Secondly, the northern provinces are apparently being pressed by the Japanese to withhold much larger proportions of the salt tax and other duties
from the Central Government, thus directly affecting its ability to meet debt service obligations.

Accordingly the jobbers have marked down these prices conspicuously since the middle of last month. Thus from 81½ to 89 for the 5 per cent (1912), from 94½ to 83 for the 5 per cent (1913), and from 102½ to 95 for the 4 per cent (1898). Of these £40,000,000 or so of British investments in China quoted on the Stock Exchange; banking capital is another important part. The Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation operates mainly in China. Its stock has been marked down between these rates from 105 to 99, and that of another bank partially interested in China, the Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China, has also been marked down. British interests in China are much, perhaps even many times, more extensive and valuable than the total quoted in the Stock Exchange. About all of these in the present circumstances there is some preoccupation.

"We always supposed they were smocks and large ties," writes W.
D. B.

GOOD FUN

"Love On A Bet"
At Alhambra

"Love on a Bet" now being screened at the Alhambra Theatre, Kowloon, is one of those merry, madcap, glorious impossible things that must appeal to all.

Even were the film a poor one, the story is enough to make it go with a swing. Gene Raymond, a millionaire playboy, undertakes a bet that, stripped of his singlet and underpants, and let loose in New York, he will, within 10 days, arrive in Los Angeles, without paying for transport, clad in a new suit, possessing $100 and engaged to a beautiful girl.

As soon as he takes the bet the audience knows that he will dash in at the last moment 10 days hence and win the bet, but the story of how he does it makes an hour's good fun.

Raymond is a much more pleasant actor in these breezy roles and skims through the film with the correct amount of confidence and assurance. Wendy Barrie is an adequate partner in the romance and for humour there is Helen Broderick, full of dour wisecracks as usual.

The supporting programme, at the Alhambra is also entertaining.

MARINES MEET AT DINNER

Old Comrades
Reunion At Hotel

A function which had been allowed to lapse for some years, was resurrected on Saturday when the Hong Kong and South China Branch of the Royal Marines Old Comrades Association held a reunion dinner in the Jacobean Room of the Hong Kong Hotel. The hope was expressed that it would become an annual event. Commodore C. G. Sedgwick was the guest of honour. Among those present were Col. A. C. Harrison, G.S.O.I., Wing Commander A. G. Bishop, both of whom served formerly in the Royal Marine Artillery, Capt. F. M. Bramall, Capt. D. J. Grey, Messrs. A. W. Gilmitt, Kingdon, Venables, McNay, H. V. Pearse, Martin, O'Neill, Fisher, Bethell, Thompson and Alexander.

"THE DARK ANGEL"

AT THE KING'S

A love story so magnificent and compelling that the audience sat spellbound throughout at the King's Theatre when "The Dark Angel" was shown. The chief actors, in the powerful and gripping romantic drama were Fredric March, Merle Oberon and Herbert Marshall. None has ever been cast to better advantage.

Merle, delightful in her widely publicized new personality, shown of the exotism and mystery of her former roles, plays Kitty Vane, a sweet, young English girl, who since childhood has been loved by one boy, Gerald (Marshall), while she loves his cousin, Alar (March). Months in the trenches bring to Alar a realization of his love for Kitty. Home on leave, he confesses his love but their ecstatic plans to marry on the morrow are shattered by a sudden order cancelling all leaves. They swear the marriage vows to each other and next morning Alar returns to the trenches.

Alar is reported killed, and the story proceeds to a powerful emotional climax and ends on a beautiful, heart-grIPPING note.

Magnificently acted, handsomely mounted and brilliantly directed, "The Dark Angel", stands out as one of the finest and most entertaining films in many a cinema season. The supporting cast, including Janet Beecher, John Halliday, Henrietta Crozman, Frieda Inescourt, Claude Allister, George Breakstone, Fay Chaldecott, Cora Sue Collins and others, is excellent.

BUGLE ANN

Now comes the talking screen with one of the most amazing tributes to the dog as friend of man ever presented and which, with Lionel Barrymore in a role as dramatic as those in "A Free Soul" or "The Copperhead", coming soon to the Alhambra Theatre.

This, "The Voice of Bugle Ann", based on MacKinlay Kantor's famous novel of the old hunter who kills a man and goes to prison to avenge the death of his faithful hound. The novel created a furor. Incidentally it is based on an actual court case.

Barrymore plays the central role of Spring Davis, the dog owner, and in the courtroom scene voices a gripping and dramatic tribute to dogs as friends of man. A romance between Eric Linden and Maureen O'Sullivan runs through the haunting story. Spring Byington, Charley Grape, win, Dudley Digges, Henry Wadsworth, James Macklin, Jonathan Hale and Billy Newell have prominent supporting parts.

The dramatic highlights include the star of the feud between the farmers over injured dogs, the dramatic slaying, the court sequence, the prison scene, for which Jefferson City Penitentiary was photographed. A picturesque touch is added in the fox hunting sequences staged with a pack of Missouri hounds specially brought to the studios for this work.

"You're quite right, grandpa, about the 'Music Goes Boom-de-ay' was no intellectual treat."

JUNE BRIDE

AMERICAN PAIR WED AT REGISTRY

Miss Hazel Fernanda Gardner was married to Mr. John Brownley at the Registry Office, Supreme Court, before Mr. W. J. Lockhart Smith, Registrar of Marriages, on Saturday.

The bride arrived from America in the morning by the President Jefferson. The bridegroom, who is a banker with the National City Bank of New York in Manila, arrived a few days ago. The honeymoon is being spent at Repulse Bay.

THE NOBILITY

DUCAL POLITICS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.
The Duke of Montrose's joining of the Liberal fold would seem to give to that party something it has not had for some time. Dukes seem to run in cycles politically, for there have been considerable periods when it was the Tory party which was short of them. Bearers of that title—especially "Duke Smithson" of Northumberland and the "Great Leviathan" of Bedford—were the special target of witticisms in the Tory "Anti-Jacobin." Gladstone at one time had the Duke of Argyll in his Cabinet and the heir to the Duke of Devonshire. Other Whigish or Liberal dukes were Sutherland and Westminster. Presumably the Duke of Grafton of the Chatham era would be counted a Whig; the earliest Dukes of Portland were, in the very nature of things, associated with Whiggery; so also was the Duke of Newcastle of the same era, for he was long associated with Robert Walpole in spite of Walpole's "his name is perdy."

It is true that the Duke—the Duke of Wellington—was a Tory of the Tories and that some others, like the Dukes of Beaufort, were stalwarts of that party, but it seems fair to give to the Liberal side of "ducality" the better of it over a long period. It was Home Rule that began the process of alienation, and the Budget of 1894 had its share, no doubt, in establishing the same tendency. But now that a movement in the opposite direction has begun, who knows where it may end?

THE "BEGGAR EARL"

One of the strangest stories in the history of the British peerage is associated with the house of the Duke of Montrose. It would puzzle anyone to sort out all the ramifications of the Graham family in the peerage of Scotland. A Graham married a daughter of King David I. of Scotland, and from them descended a long line of unlucky and poverty-stricken earls who were never free from debt and who lost their earldom with the death of a penniless vagrant who claimed to be the eighth Earl of Menteith, a branch of the Grahams, whose body was found by some wayfarers on the high road near Bonhill in Dumbartonshire.

It is sometimes wrongly stated that this unfortunate "gaber-lunzie" was Earl of Montrose, but his title, if he had a right to it, was the Earl of Menteith. In 1744, when the Scottish peers were holding a meeting at Edinburgh and the name of Menteith was called, the answer came from "a thin cadaverous youth," who told the astonished and probably horrified peers that he was the Earl of Menteith by right of birth and was a student of medicine at the university. Although he was warned not to use the title the poor medical student refused to drop his claim. He continued for a few years to attend the meetings of the Scottish peers, but at last he disappeared from Edinburgh and when next heard of was wandering about the country calling himself the "Begger Earl" and begging from door to door.

The late Mr. Cunningham-Graham, who mentions the story in one of his books, thought the poor student's claim was genuine, and he writes, "So, like a cadger's pony, passed away one who, without doubt, had in his veins the blood of a king of Scotland and whose ancestors had been the proudest in the land."

Returned Missionary: "In Africa many of the natives wear almost nothing."

Miss Bride: "Mercy! It's a good thing Africa is a Dark Continent."

DESERTION CHARGE

CHINESE CONSTABLE
GAOLED

A Police constable, Yee Shi Li, P.C. 31, was charged before Mr. J.H.B. Lee at the Central Court on Saturday with being absent from the station and duty on June 17.

Mr. Calthrop, A.S.P., appeared for the prosecution and said that the defendant was a piracy guard on board the S.S. Yunnan at Swatow. On June 16, prior to leaving Swatow, the Chinese Maritime Customs conducted their usual search of the vessel and found six bags of wolfram ore in the guards' cabin. The ore was under two beds, one of which was occupied by the defendant.

The Chinese Government has the monopoly of this ore, which is expensive, and will not allow its export.

All the guards were to report to the Hong Kong Station on June 17. The defendant did not appear. He was found on the S.S. Hupeh, which was about to leave.

Defendant said that as the goods were seized by the Chinese Customs he was afraid of being gaoled and so deserted.

Mr. Calthrop said that the defendant joined the Force in March 1931 and had a bad record.

Defendant was sentenced to three months.

IMPROVEMENTS AT ASCOT

Better Viewpoints

THE ROYAL FAMILY
NOT TO ATTEND

(Special Air Mail Service)
Ascot, June 10.

Since the Court is in mourning, the King and members of the Royal Family will not attend the Ascot meeting next week, and there will be no procession in Ascot state in front of the stands. His Majesty, however, by making it known that mourning need not be worn in the Royal Enclosure, has indicated his wish that Ascot shall retain its usual character, and, except that the first-floor room and balcony of the Royal Pavilion will not be open, the meeting will follow the lines of those of other years. The emptiness of the pavilion will almost be concealed by floral decorations.

Several important improvements have been carried out in the vicinity of the stands since the Ascot of 1935. One of these will make it possible for the holders of Royal Enclosure badges to see more of the racing. The lawn, which formerly dipped down to the level of the paddock, has been substantially raised and given a moderate but effective rake. Thousands of loads of earth dug out of the Heath during the construction last year of a storage reservoir have been used, and at the back the lawn is now about 9ft. higher than before.

WATCHING THE UNSADDLING

A low retaining wall of red-toned bricks has been built along the rails of the course and is linked with another improvement which will enable a large number of people instead of a few, to see the unsaddling of winning and placed horses after each race. A concrete terrace with some 18 shallow steps has been built at the paddock end of the Royal Enclosure and this will serve as a stand when the horses are led in. The unsaddling enclosure for the meeting next week will have a gravel bed, but the ground will later be covered with turf.

Further improvements include a new cloak room for ladies, premises within the Royal Enclosure for Tote Investors, Limited, a new Stewards' room, and a new Press room. The total cost of all the alterations has been £10,000.

Ascot Heath to-day was looking as attractive as it has done for many years. While the trees are now in full leaf there is a fresh and beautiful range of colour to cut the skyline as seen from the stands. The course within the rails is a broad ribbon of vivid green and the going promised to be very good. Lawns everywhere are in excellent condition, and they are being brightened with painted tubes filled with geraniums, nasturtiums, and other flowers. The famous rhododendron bed—once circular but now rectangular—should be in bloom by the beginning of next week.

NO CASE TO ANSWER

MUI TSAI
PROSECUTION

Li La, Chong, aged 29, a married woman living at No. 229 Jaffe Road, was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court on Saturday with bringing an unregistered mui tsai into the Colony. The girl's name was Lal Nui, alias Chan Yin, 19.

Lal Nui Wai, the father of the girl stated that his daughter had been given to the defendant's mother-in-law as he was unable to support her. Witness only knew the defendant by sight.

"My sister-in-law is the god-mother of the defendant's mother-in-law," said the defendant in explanation of their relationship.

The girl had been given for nothing. She was to help in the household work in return for a livelihood. Though witness owed the defendant's mother-in-law a sum of $75, the girl was not given against this money.

Defendant was discharged on the conflicting evidence.

PERU'S TRIBUTE TO GALLANT SCOT

Went To Seek His Fortune And Saved A Town

ECHO OF CHILEAN WAR

(Special Air Mail Service)
London, June 14.

The Peruvian municipality of Cerro de Pasco has just paid tribute to the memory of a gallant Scotsman. A portrait of the late Mr. Robert Allison has been unveiled in the Town Hall, in the presence of his son, Mr. J. Cargill Allison, a journalist on the staff of a Lima newspaper.

After serving as accountant with different firms from his arrival in Peru in 1881, Allison felt the lure of the reportedly fabulous wealth of the Cerro de Pasco district and, in company with several countrymen and his wife and two eldest sons, set out in 1887 to seek his fortune there.

Following the defeat of the Peruvian armies at the battles of San Juan and Miraflores in the war against the neighbouring republic of Chile, panic seized the population, and Allison headed a movement to form an urban guard for the protection of property against fire and looters.

It was the more necessary because a detachment of the Chilean forces was rapidly advancing on the town. Allison was officially recognised as the commander-in-chief of the improvised police force, and when the local authorities evacuated the town, they handed over to him the charge of the department treasury and the official archives.

WEALTH ELUDED HIM, BUT—

On the arrival of the Chilean troops they were surprised to find Cerro de Pasco under perfect control and in charge of a Scotsman, who by his personal influence had been able to maintain order and save the town from being looted as had occurred elsewhere.

The majority of foreigners residing at that time in Cerro de Pasco left for the coast soon after the occupation by Chilean troops. Allison, however, considered that he had incurred an obligation in accepting the charge of the town from the local authorities.

Accordingly he remained there until the signing of the Treaty of Ancón in 1881 brought back the civil authorities to their abandoned posts.

He had the satisfaction of receiving from the Prefect of the Department, in the name of the Government, an expression of its gratitude for the control which he had maintained over the town during the Chilean occupation and the manner in which he had been able to safeguard the city's funds and documents committed to his charge.

Robert Allison, died in Lima in 1903 at the age of 66. Wealth had eluded him in the Peruvian Eldorado, but he died a famous man.

BOY GETS CASE OF WHISKEY

Liquor Firm Is Defrauded

A CLEVER RUSE

A clever ruse to obtain a case of whisky without payment was explained to Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday when Leung Mun, unemployed, described as a mess boy, appeared on a theft charge.

Leung was stated to have served on Blue Funnel liners and to speak English as well as many Chinese dialects.

Inspector A. H. Elson said Jardine Matheson received a telephone message on June 17, from a mess in Kowloon requesting a case of whisky. They were suspicious but it was thought likely that the whisky was needed for a birthday party.

The whisky was received by a mess boy, who later received a telephone message that the whisky had been delivered in error.

Later someone came to the mess, took the whisky away, and presented a receipt. When the account was presented by the firm it was discovered that Leung had written the receipt and taken the whisky away.

The case was sold to a comprador for $22.50. Three bottles were still missing said the prosecuting officer.

On the day before Leung was arrested, Jardines received another similar message ordering whisky, which was not delivered.

A fine of $50, or a month's imprisonment was imposed.

Mr. F. A. Hopkins appeared as complainant.

BURGLARY CHARGE

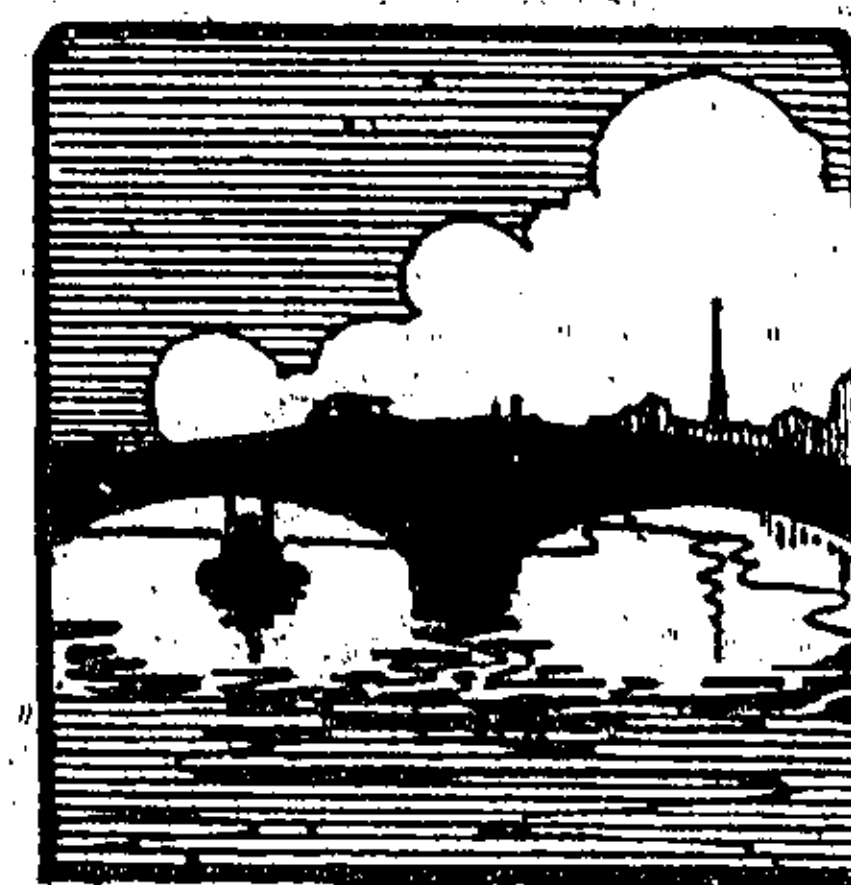

Stole From Married
Woman

Chah Wing, 32, unemployed was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court on Saturday with breaking into an unnumbered hut in King's Road on Friday at 10.30 a.m. and stealing one petticoat, three jackets, one pair of trousers, one counterpane and some cloth, the property of Tang Mui, a married woman.

Acting Sub-Inspector Madgewick stated that the complainant returned to the hut on Friday morning and saw the defendant leaving with a parcel. On examining the hut door she found that the lock had not been broken but the wooden wall of the hut was broken through. The defendant was chased, in the course of which he fell down the hillside and injured his hands and legs.

Defendant was sentenced to three months.

THEFT CHARGE FAILS

Appearing on remand before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court on Saturday, charged with the larceny of 123 lbs of lead from the Royal Naval Dockyard, on June 13, Chan Hung, was discharged. The magistrate said the evidence was too conflicting.

Mr. W.A. Mackinlay appeared for defendant, and the prosecution was in the hands of Det-Serjt. C. Downman.

STOLE FROM EMPLOYER

Leung Chau, 21, carpenter, appearing on remand before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court on Saturday was charged with the theft of $21.30 and a key, the property of Tang Chun, married woman, working with the defendant at the Sam Yick building contractors.

The case had been adjourned to allow defendant to communicate with his relatives in Canton to raise amends, for complainant.

On Saturday Det-Serjt. Downman said that defendant was unable to raise the restitution money. Leung was sentenced to pay $20 amends or three weeks, and a fine of $20 or six weeks.

HOUSE-BREAKING

Charged with house-breaking with intent at No. 24, Lyndhurst Terrace, Chan Pui, 31, unemployed, appeared before Mr. J.H.B. Lee at the Central Court on Saturday and was sentenced to four months. Det-Serjt. Shepherd stated that the complainant returned to his house and found that the lock on the door was broken and that it was bolted from the inside. He peeped through the door and saw the defendant. He raised the alarm and the defendant was arrested though he tried to escape through the verandah of the next house.

PRIEST GAOLED

A Siamese priest, from Bangkok, Leung Kuen alias Leung Chan Tung, aged 19, appeared before Mr. J.H.B. Lee in the Central Court on Saturday charged with the larceny of one opium pipe and the unlawful pawning of the said article at the Wo Sang Pawnshop, No. 151, Queen's Road Central.

Det-Serjt. C. Byron said that the defendant was stopped in the street and searched and a pawn-ticket was found. It was investigated and traced to the complainant. The defendant admitted taking the pipe.

Defendant was sentenced to one month on the first charge and to a fine of $50 on the second.

NO FERRY FARE

For attempting to evade payment of fare on the Yaumati-Mongkok Ferry Wharf, Cheung Kam, a student was fined $10, or in default, two weeks imprisonment at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday.

Cheung told Mr. E. Himsworth that he was in a hurry and had meant to pay his fare on the boat. It was leaving when he arrived at the pier.

Mr. L. A. Hurlow, Inspector of the Ferry Co., said accused attempted to pass as a season ticket holder. When asked for his ticket he merely nodded his head. Sub-Inspector Rogers appeared for the police.

BANISHEES

Two returned banishees were sentenced by Mr. J.H.B. Lee at the Central Court on Saturday. Wong Sui Shan alias Wu Chung, 27, who was banished for 10 years on August 28, 1934, was sentenced to eight months.

Chan Wo, 32, unemployed, banished for 10 years on May 1 this year, was sentenced to one year.

MAIL NEWS FROM HOME

London, June 12.

Within the space of an hour the House of Commons yesterday showed itself in a series of contrasting moods. When question hour ended at 3.45 a House which had been inattentive became suddenly expectant.

Mr. Baldwin changed expectancy to puzzlement by announcing that the separation of Burma from India would mean the establishment of a new Burma Office with a Secretary of State and Under Secretary.

Before M.P.s had time to conjecture who the new Ministers would be, Mr. Baldwin solemnly announced that the India Office and its Ministers would continue to run the Burma Office.

The laughter had hardly died away when Mr. Attlee was attacking the Government with vigour because of Mr. Neville Chamberlain's speech about Sanctions.

Angry shouts of "Answer, answer" in a heated House assailed the Prime Minister after questions from Mr. Attlee, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Mr. Churchill and Mr. Buxton.

HOUSE'S CATHEDRAL-LIKE QUIET

From angry noise the House changed to a cathedral-like quiet when Mr. Thomas rose, from his corner seat to make his statement.

He read it in such a low voice that M.P.s had to strain to catch the words at the beginning. Big Ben, striking 4 o'clock, seemed to fill the chamber with an unusual volume of sound.

There was genuine feeling in the murmurs of sympathy that accompanied Mr. Thomas as he left his seat. At the bar of the House, where he turned and bowed for the last time, his former P.P.S. Mr. J. P. L. Thomas, who had served him since 1932, put a protecting arm round him and led him into the lobby.

Sir Alfred Butt, who showed less emotion, left with a consoling pat on the back from Mr. Boothby, an old personal friend.

For the rest of the hour the House was a dignified assembly, listening without interruptions to Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Attlee and Sir Archibald Sinclair, with Mr. Thomas's empty seat to remind them of the personal tragedy behind the debate.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE "ON THE DOLL"

"On the doll" is how Mr. Lloyd George describes himself at the moment. He finished his War Memoirs last week.

The last lap of 4,000 words he covered in his own handwriting. I have seen these sheets. Their neatness fully bears out what I said recently about Mr. Lloyd George's skill as an engrosser in his early days as a solicitor. Arnold Bennett's manuscripts were not freer from erasures.

Mr. Lloyd George has now developed views on authorship. He declares that he never intended to become an author, and only gave way when the urge to do so grew irresistible.

It still remains. Hence his intention of writing another book about the Peace Conference.

"PROVISIONAL CONCLUSIONS"

Mr. Neville Chamberlain's speech to the 1900 Club contained the effective phrase "provisional conclusions" to describe modestly what appeared to be a declaration of a new British foreign policy.

Yesterday Mr. Baldwin slightly misquoted him, referring to the Chancellor's "provisional reflections."

Mr. Chamberlain is not principally known as an oratorical stylist. He has, however, other good phrases at the dinner.

One such was applied to the Socialist Opposition, who were always only too ready to indulge in "provocation without provision."

1900 AND ALL THAT

Mr. Winston Churchill was at the top of his form. Wednesday night's Churchilliana included:

Those (1900) were the days of great men and small wars. Now all we can say is that the wars won't be small.

We were then as naughty and forward as Mussolini himself.

Nowadays, when the whole world is reformed—except the greater part of it.....to revert to 1900 and all that.

His speech, coming after what he called "the important—I might almost say the massive"—speeches of Mr. Neville Chamberlain and Sir Robert Horne, was happily light.

TOUGH—BUT DYSPETIC

Septuagenarian Mr. W. M. Hughes, hurt yesterday in an air accident, has a charmed life. The latest of his numerous motor-car accidents occurred only a few weeks ago. Both he and Dame Mary Hughes were injured.

Dr. Earle Page, now one of his Cabinet colleagues, has twice attended to him after accidents.

Once he had to set a collar-bone when Mr. Hughes fell from his horse during an election campaign. Later, Dr. Page dragged Mr.

Hughes from beneath an overturned car on the Sydney-Canberra road.

On the night of his return from his latest visit to Europe, Mr. Hughes, who always to drive himself, broke a leg in a car accident. Soon he was surf-bathing again.

Tough as Mr. Hughes is physically, he is a life-long sufferer from dyspepsia. On his electioneering tours in the "back-blocks" the first concern of his staff was to wire ahead to round up the scarce chickens for the Prime Minister.

PEERS' ROBES COST 90 GUINEAS

The question of the cost of Coronation robes is already beginning to exercise the minds of some of the less affluent peers.

A peer's robes with the best quality ermine, velvet and silk cost 90 guineas. This is an advance of 10 guineas or so on the last Coronation, largely due to the increased value of the fur.

The fur much more than the velvet is the deciding factor in the cost. A famous Chancery-lane firm who specialise in peers' robes, with the experience of 10 Coronations since William and Mary behind them, supply robes from 60 to 90 guineas.

The lower price means ermine, velvet and silk of a less high quality. Peers, who would not mind imitation fur would be able to halve this cost, though even 30 guineas is a considerable outlay for robes which are only likely to be used once.

So far the demand for new robes, which has been brisk, has been entirely for the top quality.

LADY CLERK, COMPOSER

A new composition by the versatile Ambassadors, Lady Clerk, is being performed in Paris to-day. It is a five-part Kyrie with string quartet, harp and organ accompaniment.

A friend who heard a rehearsal tells me that she has treated this liturgical subject in modern form.

Those taking part in the performance, which is to be given at a charity concert, include Mme. Dorian Blanc, soprano, of the Paris Opera; the Amati Quartet, and the Comte de St. Martin, the organist of Notre Dame.

It is shortly to be broadcast from Prague. Only a few months ago the P.T.T. wireless station gave an orchestra and solo voices.

Lady Clerk is at present devoting considerable time to her paintings. She always starts work early, rising at five in the morning.

CAPS OF MANY COLOURS

The system of awarding colours at Eton is so complicated that in recent times new boys are put through a catechism on the subject by their seniors. The terms of such "colour-exams" will be reduced by a learned little book, "Life's Memories of Eton and Eton Colours," which has just appeared.

Its author is Mr. E. C. Devereux, who has been a hosiery in Eton for nearly 70 years. His grandfather was hatter to William IV.

He gives nearly 100 reproductions of past and present colours. "The Field," the blue and scarlet colour given for Eton football, is second in age to Eton blue.

DAME'S SKULL AND CROSSBONES

The newest was authorised last year—dark green with two thin Eton blue stripes, for boxing and fencing.

New housemasters seem more enterprising in choosing new colours. Until recently, they generally took over their predecessors', but lately there has been a spate of fresh colours.

Mr. W. N. Roe, who has had a house since 1933, is the most original. Instead of the usual stripes or quarters, he has adopted a plain blue cap with a small white rose in front—a pun on the name of his house, "Roe's."

Mr. G. W. Lytton, too, has an unusual colour. When he succeeded Mr. Brinton in 1925, he revived the black skull and crossbones on a scarlet ground. For many years this was sacred to Miss Evans, last and greatest of Eton's dames.

MUSICAL SERVICE

Kowloon Union Church.
Attraction

Another of its attractive musical services was held last night at the Kowloon Union Church, Jordan Road, when special hymns were sung by the choir and Mrs. Irene Miller.

The service was preceded by a short organ recital by Mr. J. Anderson Miller, who played "Choral Song" (Wesley), "Intermezzo" from Sonata in F. (Luard Belby); variations on an original theme "Nimrod" (Elgar) and "Choral Prelude on 'Rockingham'" (Parry). Rev. John D. MacLean preached a sermon.

MOTOR CRASHES INTO TREE

Army Officer Has Lucky Escape

DODGED PEDESTRIAN

A motor accident, in which $250 damage was done and involving an Army officer occurred early yesterday morning when a private car ran into a tree in Nathan Road.

The car was being driven by Lt. Beaumont of the East Lancs, and was proceeding in a southerly direction. When opposite the Duro Motor Garage, a Chinese suddenly walked across the road in front of the car. Lt. Beaumont swerved sharply to the right in an effort to avoid striking the pedestrian, but ran into a tree.

Although the vehicle was severely damaged sustaining damage to both bumpers, front mudguards, radiator and wheels, the driver was lucky to escape with nothing more than a severe shaking.

GERMANY'S CLAIM TO COLONIES

SCHACHT BEHIND NEW CAMPAIGN

Hitler Expected To Make Demand

(Special Air Mail Service)

Berlin, June 10.

There is reason to believe that the propaganda campaign for the return of Germany's lost colonies will reach its climax before the end of this year. No steps are probable until after the end of the Olympic games in the middle of August, but the question is then likely to be put forward in a pressing form.

It is possible that Herr Hitler may decide to make some reference to Germany's need of colonies at the Nazi Party congress in Nuremberg at the beginning of September. In his Reichstag speech on March 7, when he stated that Germany was prepared to return to the League, he expressed the hope that the question of equality of rights in colonial matters would be cleared up "within a reasonable time by way of friendly negotiations."

As Germany's return to the League no longer appears to be an immediate possibility, the colonial question will hardly be allowed to remain long unventilated.

The leading spirit behind this colonial propaganda is believed to be Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank and Minister of Economics.

Germany requires colonies chiefly on grounds of prestige, and a campaign for their return may help to divert attention from domestic hardships during the coming winter.

Dr. Schacht may also hold the opinion that colonies will provide a field of activity for wilder spirits in the Nazi Party, who at present expend their surplus energy on less constructive pursuits.

Should Germany succeed in her colonial aspirations, there is some speculation whether she would regard herself as justified in facing Britain with a demand for a larger navy in proportion to British strength.

BRITAIN'S POSITION

The view now developing in Germany that Great Britain, as a result of recent international events, has suffered a loss both of power and prestige is put forward very plainly to-day in the "National Zeitung" of Essen, a newspaper closely connected with Gen. Goering. It says:

"Not only Germany but also England lost the world war. Quite apart from the fact that conquered Germany is returning to her former power, other Powers have appeared on the scene with which Britain formerly was not obliged to count—America, Japan, Italy and the new Russia."

"The British Fleet no longer rules the seas. With the foundation of the Italian Empire the danger has increased still more, and the security of the sea route to India is now in doubt."

"Moreover, in the distance there arises the danger of a two-sided menace to the Sudan—from an Italian Abyssinia and from Libya, as a result of which the important Cape to Cairo route may be intercepted and a grave danger to Egypt arise. Egypt already contains more Italians than British."

RATES REFUND

For Unoccupied Tenements

GAZETTE NOTICE

It is announced in the Government Gazette that a refund of rates for the year beginning July 1, 1936, may be made where, although a tenement has not been wholly vacant, one or more floors have been vacant for a month.

Provisions for the refund are:— That the owner, between January 1 and 21, 1936, elected to obtain a refund and returned to the Treasury a form sent out for that purpose.

That the rates were paid in advance during the first month of the quarter.

Notice of vacancy was given before the 15th of the first month of vacancy, and

The claim for refund has been given to the Treasurer within 15 days after the expiration of the quarter.

RATES DUE NOW

The Gazette also notifies owners and occupiers of tenements that under the provisions of the Rating Ordinance rate for third quarter of 1936 are payable in advance on or before July 31.

Those fall to pay rates by August 31 are liable to proceedings in the Supreme Court.

No refund of rates in respect of vacant tenements will be granted unless rates have been paid in July or unless application is made within 15 days of expiration of the quarter.

4 YEARS COMA

MOTHER'S VIGIL

New York June 7.

Asleep now for four years, Patricia Maguire, thirty-one-year-old Chicago Beauty, may sleep into old age, writes a correspondent.

That is the verdict of an eminent French doctor who has just been called in.

Her mother, Mrs. Peter Milley, hopes on despite the pessimism of the doctors, and to-day, on the telephone from their Chicago home, she told me she may send Patricia to England to seek the advice of the greatest experts.

"I have heard that studies of Patricia's complaint are far advanced in London," she said, "and if I had money and hope of cure was held out I would take her there for observation and treatment."

It was on February 15, 1932, that her daughter, murmuring, "Kiss me, mum," fell asleep.

Her mother kissed her—and every night since has repeated the kiss.

"They have been worrying years," said Mrs. Milley's tired voice on the telephone, "but I never give up hope."

"Life has become harder still now because my mother is ill and not expected to live. I spend my time at two beddies."

When Patricia fell ill she had an admirer. He still calls regularly with flowers.

Every week clergymen—Catholic priests and Protestant ministers—come to pray that she may wake. Thousands of letters have reached her home from all over the world.

SMILES IN HER SLEEP

Writers suggest that Mrs. Milley should exhibit the "sleeping beauty" at fairs, or that the girl should be painlessly killed.

"I still believe that Patricia will wake," Mrs. Milley told me. "She is in perfect physical condition, and sometimes I see small smiles on her face when I speak to her."

"All I can do at present is to watch over Patricia in our little home, hoping and hoping."

And in her spare moments she pastes up newspaper cuttings in a book so that some day Patricia may read what went on in the world while she slept.

Egypt already contains more Italians than British.

The growth of views of this kind amongst German leaders is likely to lead to a further stiffening of the German attitude in regard to pending international problems. This fact will doubtless be seen in the German reply to the British questionnaire.

ROPE THIEVES AT WORK

Big Haul From Ship In Harbour

B. AND S. VESSEL

Rope thieves, who have been quiet of late, are busy again, the latest victim being the Sui Yang, a Butterfield and Swire vessel.

Rope valued at $150 was stolen from the craft at 4.10 a.m. yesterday while she was anchored off Aldrich Bay, Shau Ki Wan.

A report to the police states that 20 fathoms were missing. Recently at Kowloon Court a gang of thieves were variously sentenced for participation in rope thefts. It was then explained that the rope was disposed off to dealers at Shau Ki Wan, who in turn sold the rope to sea-going junkies.

As has been shown in the past, the robbers do not hesitate to ruin a fine length of rope, in many cases leaving a liberal length behind. Any rope thus cut however, is consider useless and shipping companies have suffered severe losses in this manner.

Officers from the Water Police are investigating this latest theft.

PERTH'S AIRPORT CHIEF

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 17.

Scottish civil aviation interests will be fully represented at Perth to-day when the city's new airport, constructed at a cost of £86,000, will be officially opened by Viscount Swinton, the Air Minister. The ceremony will also serve as an official introduction to the Scottish public of a new aviation personality, Mr. P. J. B. Perkins, the manager of the aerodrome and administrative officer for the local flying school of Airwork, Limited. Mr. Perkins is already well known and popular in Perth district and among general users of the airport's up-to-date facilities.

AIR PILOT AT 18

Native of Hampshire, he was at Eton and Cambridge, and it was in the Cambridge Air Squadron that he learned to fly, taking his pilot's certificate at the age of 18. After a year or two of "seeing the world" he entered the service of Airwork, Ltd., proprietors and managers of Heston Airport, London, and eventually became assistant to the general manager. In January last he came North to take up his Perth appointment. Mr. Perkins comes of a flying family, his brother being Mr. W. R. D. Perkins, Unionist M.P. for the Stroud Division of Gloucestershire, who for years has flown his own plane.

THE CHOICE

Mr. Neville Chamberlain has killed sanctions.

Sanctions, he announced in his speech recently, have been tried, have failed, and must now be withdrawn.

There can be no doubt that Mr. Chamberlain speaks for the whole Cabinet. The League's meeting within the next few weeks will see the formal renunciation of this semblance of a foreign policy which Britain has pursued since the Italians invaded Abyssinia. And without Britain's support sanctions cannot go on.

So an era closes. Mr. Chamberlain has spoken his mind, and the minds of his colleagues, in forthright terms deserving our gratitude and praise. But Mr. Chamberlain's speech has killed a policy: it has not given us a new one. Instead of defining our path for the future, Mr. Chamberlain offers us the choice between two paths, and he does not tell us which he prefers.

The first path is that of "insuring peace by means of regional arrangements which could be approved by the League," but which would be guaranteed only by the States vitally affected in each region. That is a policy of alliances under another name.

The second path is Isolation. It is now within our power, within the power of the British people, to direct the Government

KWANGSI'S CASE

Marshal Li Tsung-jen In Special Interview

POSITION IN SOUTH

Canton, June 28.

Firm conviction that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, seeking to gain political and military domination in South China and to destroy the anti-Japanese movement, will order his armed forces to attack Kwangtung and Kwangsi, was expressed by Marshal Li Tsung-jen, Commander-in-chief of the Kwangsi Fourth Army Group, in an exclusive interview granted to Reuter at his headquarters in Canton to-day.

Marshal Li disclosed that in addition to the 300,000 to 400,000 troops already massed in Fukien, Kiangsi, Hunan and Kweichow, Nanking was shifting its armies engaged in the anti-Communist campaign in Szechuen, to the south.

The Second Route Army under the command of General Hsieh Yoh was under orders to move into Kweichow, indicating that the Central Government had abandoned the anti-Communist expedition in order to concentrate on its military campaign against the South-west.

In the circumstances, he said, Chiang's armies will become agents of Japanese Imperialism and Kwangtung and Kwangsi, being anti-Japanese and for self-defence, will be compelled to put up resistance and so the responsibility for a possible open clash will be on Nanking.

Marshal Li added that if Chiang Kai-shek actually starts the war, deliberately impeding Kwangtung and Kwangsi's anti-Japanese expedition, he will be regarded here as a national traitor and will be dealt with as such.

NO FIGHTING

Although the situation is fraught with possibilities and tension is daily growing, actual fighting has not broken out so far.

Marshal Li ridiculed the report that Kwangsi troops had made an attack on Hengchow and that severe fighting ensued there.

into either of these paths. For it is clear that the Government awaits a sign from the nation. And which course should we demand of our rulers? Which path of the two? Alliances or Isolation?

We must demand Isolation, complete freedom from European commitments.

No other policy can give us the assurance of peace. Isolation was Britain's choice from 1822, when Canning took office, to 1904, when the Entente Cordiale was launched. That was a period of many and bloody wars in Europe, Russia, Turkey, Austria, Italy, Prussia, Denmark, France—all were involved in wars. Isolation kept Britain free of every one. Throughout that time her forces were employed in no European conflict save the Crimean, and that war was the result not of a European commitment but of a blunder in statesmanship.

To-day we have to take account of factors which make Isolation even more essential to us than it was in the last century. We have now to consider the attitude of our self-governing Dominions. They have set their faces resolutely against entanglement with Europe. They would not join with the Mother Country in the Pact of Locarno. And Locarno was a regional pact approved by the League, of the type which Mr. Chamberlain described in his speech.

We can revive the policy of joining in European pacts and alliances only at the cost of alienating the Dominions.

There would be a further penalty. We should destroy for all time the prospect of a closer understanding with the United States of America, the prospect of an association which would confer immense benefits on the two great English-speaking Empires. For the United States is isolationist, and will enter upon no partnership with a country pledged to intervention in European wars.

Why should we pay these penalties? And why should we bind ourselves to sacrifice British lives, to pour out British wealth in European disputes which are not of our making and not of our concern? Our minds are made up. We choose Isolation, the unity of the British Empire, and a partnership with our American kinsmen which will set an example of peace to the whole world.

Reuter

pointing out that not a single Kwangsi soldier was in that vicinity, having been withdrawn to the border since June 12.

He said the report was quite absurd as since the Central Government forces had already advanced to Kiyang and Hengchow it was impossible for the Kwangsi troops to remain in the neighbourhood of Hengchow which is north of Kiyang and Hengchow, and to launch an attack on the city.

In the Marshal's opinion the report was a Nanking fabrication designed to discredit Kwangsi and to lay the blame for starting the war on the South-west.

KWANGSI'S CASE

In great earnestness, Marshal Li explained to Reuter the anti-Japanese stand which Kwangsi is taking. He said that since the Mukden incident which led to the occupation of the Three Eastern Provinces by the Japanese, Kwangsi has been advocating resistance against Japanese aggression.

During the Sino-Japanese crisis in Shanghai in 1932 Marshal Li was in Nanking and made every endeavour to persuade Marshal Chiang Kai-shek to offer resistance. Up to to-day, he had not changed this attitude.

Despite rumours of affiliations with the Japanese, anti-Japanese feeling was running high in Nanking and other Kwangsi cities and the Marshal invited the public to send an investigation commission to Kwangsi to ascertain the real conditions prevailing in the Province.

Marshal Li carefully explained that the anti-Japanese movement in Kwangsi was entirely genuine and that all the reports about Kwangsi receiving Japanese assistance were malicious rumours spread by both Nanking and the Japanese. Nanking, he stated, desired to discredit Kwangsi with a view to eventually launching an expedition against the Province, while Japan desired China to remain in a state of disunity and chaos.

NO DISCORD

Marshal Li categorically denied that any discord existed between Kwangtung and Kwangsi and remarked that "his continued presence in Canton and continued cordial relations with Marshal Chen Chi-tang should dispel all rumours in this connection."

Kwangtung and Kwangsi were standing together and Marshal Li said that there was no truth in the reports that Feng Jui, Director of the Kwangtung Agricultural Bureau, was entrusted with the mission of conducting peace negotiations with the Central Government.

Marshal Li was indignant over the rumour emanating from Nanking that Japan had lent Kwangsi 5,000,000 Yuan, secured on Kwangsi's magnesium mines, and giving Japan special privileges to make investments in Kwangsi, declaring that it was without foundation. He said that to begin with, Kwangsi does not possess any magnesium mines.

NORTH COMING SOUTH

Canton, June 27.

Commenting on Chiang Kai-shek's statement regarding his policy towards the South-west, Hsiao Fu-chen declared to-day that although Chiang Kai-shek expressed a desire for peace, the Central Government forces continued pushing southwards.

He said it was entirely untrue that the Kwangtung and Kwangsi forces had advanced into Hunan, Kweichow, Kiangsi and Fukien.

He said that with the exception of Kwangtung men originally stationed in southern Kiangsi, not a single soldier was now in Fukien, Kiangsi or Kweichow.

On the other hand, Nanking had shifted even its north-western army and Szechuen and Shensi anti-Communist forces southward with the object of starting civil strife.

MOTOR CYCLE IS MISSING

POLICE SUSPECT A JOY RIDER

The theft of a motor cycle from the Y.M.C.A. Garage, in Middle Road, is contained in a police report issued yesterday.

Mr. Littlewood, owner of the cycle reported that the vehicle has been missing from the garage since 3.30 p.m. yesterday. It was placed in the garage at 5 p.m. on June 27, but was not missed until yesterday.

The police are of opinion that a joy rider has "borrowed" the vehicle. The machine is a B.S.A. 3½ h.p. with a green tank and black mudguards.

SOLDIER KILLED WHEN TRAIN CRASHED

Arabs Remove Rail And Fire On Wreck

MORE AMBUSHES

Jerusalem, June 28.

Further casualties were suffered by British forces in Palestine to-day.

A passenger train was derailed through the removal of a rail on the Lydda-Haifa line and two soldiers of the Cheshire Regiment, who were escorting the train, were pinned under the overturned engine. One was killed.

The Arabs subjected the wreck to a heavy fire, wounding several passengers and two more soldiers. It is reported that the engine driver was killed and a freeman injured.

Later, a patrol of British troops arrived and dispersed the attackers.

Twenty miles north of Jerusalem a party of telephone line-men, headed by a British engineer and escorted by four Cameron Highlanders, were ambushed at dawn.

The engineer drove furiously to Ramallah for reinforcements, but when these arrived they found the raiders withdrawn, and two of the Highlanders wounded. The Arabs had suffered casualties, however. Reuter's Bulletin Service.

BEST DECATHLON

COLORADO ATHLETE BREAKS RECORD

Vancouver, June 28.

A world record for a decathlon contest was established during the Olympic trials at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to-day by Glen Morris of Denver, Colorado.

Morris scores 7880 points which beats the record of 7824.5 established in 1934 by Slevoris, a German.

(A decathlon is a series of 10 different athletic contests undertaken by one man and is regarded as a real test of an athlete's versatility.)

GOING NORTH

South-West To Submit Five Proposals

Canton, June 28.

It is reliably reported that seven Kwangtung and Kwangsi C.E.C. members, including Huang Lin-shu, Teng Ching-yang, Tsui Kwang-shiu, Li Yi-um, Lu Yiu-kong, Ou Fong-pu and Chang Yin-ming will attend the second plenary session and are expected to fly to Nanking on July 8.

The South-west will submit to the session five proposals. It is authoritatively stated that the delegates will first proceed to Shanghai and may not continue to Nanking if the five proposals are not included in the agenda of the conference.

General Pei Chung-hai, accompanied by General Hsia Wei, commander of the 15th army, flew to the front on the Hunan-Kweichow border on Friday to inspect the defences and returned to Nanking to-day after spending the night at Luchow.

Chinese evening papers report that Kweichow troops under the command of Mu Shou-hsien have declared their allegiance to the South-west and will join immediately in the anti-Japanese expedition.

If Gossip We Must

(By "ONLOOKER")

The King's Birthday dawned with the greatest promise, and in spite of a very heavy shower at tiffin time the weather was perfect for the Review at Happy Valley in the afternoon.

Driving slowly along en route for the show, passing companies of soldiers, bands, police, and an enormous turnout of St. John Ambulance (complete of course with dozens of stretchers), our spirits soared to the most festive heights, and we were reminded of the thrills we used to experience on national occasions in our childhood days at home in England.

Arrived at the race course, soldiers ushered us to our places with the greatest hospitality, and at the appointed hour, His Excellency, The Governor arrived.

As company after company passed the saluting base, I felt more and more proud of being British, and murmurs of admiration were heard from all sides. Once more that regal and marvellously handsome goat belonging to the Royal Welsh Fusiliers took first prize for smartness. I am told he is as proud of the regiment as the soldiers themselves—in fact he is pretty well owns the whole Brigade in his own estimation.

Photographers—press and otherwise—were having a regular field day, and so were the ice cream vendors. The small visitors especially, considered ice cream the perfect finish to a lovely evening.

Among the grown-ups I noticed were Mrs. North looking charming in white organdie with a large shady hat. Mrs. Sedgwick who we were sorry to hear has been on the sick list wore a very smart dark figured dress, and so did Mrs. Bishop. Mrs. Sayer was in white, and the Kotewall girls looked as attractive as ever in gay printed dresses just alike. The whole family of Dodwell were there looking as nice as ever, you may be sure.

We were all so pleased to see Lady Caldecott—many of us met her for the first time at the review. She was looking quite well again after her recent fever, and was able to enjoy everything.

Everybody were congratulating Mr. Taylor on his new honour, and it was so nice to see Miss Mary Taylor back after her travels, looking awfully well, and complete with her brother who has come here for a holiday, which we hope he will enjoy.

And so ended one of the best shows that has ever happened in Hong Kong. The Army, I believe, organised everything, are to be warmly congratulated, and we thank them for a lovely afternoon.

THE RECEPTION. After a brief spell of home it was time to start out once more for the Reception at Government House. The clerk of the weather favoured us, and apart from one shower it was a perfect evening complete with a real Dulac moon shining overhead.

His Excellency and Lady Caldecott received their guests in the ball room as usual, but this time the official party did not sit on the platform, but were able to wander straight out into the grounds. Fairy lights illuminated the whole garden, and from the balcony it was very lovely looking at the gay scene below. A giant palm of translucent green stood next to what looked like a Xmas tree, straight-out of a fairy tale. So tall it was, with little glittering lights going right up into the sky. One could hardly believe it was June the 23rd—the King's Birthday, and a hot evening in Hong Kong. It seemed more like some dream of the Arabian Nights.

But gossip writers should not dream. They have to keep their eyes open and study the rank and fashion of this year of grace 1936. Of course everybody looked very nice, and naturally there was a large preponderance of white and black amongst the dresses, with here and there a purple or a mauve, or some other not too bright colour. Lady Caldecott herself wore a beautifully cut all black dress, and so did Mrs. Bartholomew.

Mrs. North wore white satin with great success, and the stars in her hair were most becoming. Mrs. Smith-Wright looked ethereal as ever in lovely floating white georgette, and Mrs. Prior wore black with intriguing ruching round the shoulders. Frau Gipperich wore black and white, and so did Mrs. Dedwell. Pamela Dodwell wore white with a lovely midnight blue sequin belt, shoulder straps, and sandals to match. Anne wore a slim dress of palest sea green, and her sister diaphanous pink with pale apocryphal flowers on the skirt.

Mrs. James Whitham wore a lovely black dress, and Mrs. Clough-Taylor alim white satin with a scarf affair of deep purple.

Miss Peggy Murrow was looking her very best in pale mauve organdie, off the shoulders, and with a large cluster of flowers at the neck. I wonder why more fair people do not realise how extremely flattering pale mauve can be.

So many people, and it is so difficult to mention all the "lovelies"—space does not permit. St. John Ambulance nurses looked smart in their white dresses and uniform, evening capes of black. Lots of soigne Chinese ladies moved about the garden, amongst them I noticed Mrs. Zhu Tong Sen in palest pink which set off her magnificent diamonds to perfection.

HAILE SELASSIE

NEGUS IS STILL EMPEROR

Asserts Claim In A Note To The League

WANTS AMMUNITION

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Geneva, June 27. Haile Selassie still maintains all rights as Emperor and will continue to exercise them. He asserts in a note handed by his delegate, Ras Nasibu, to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations. Less than half of Abyssinia is occupied by the Italians, points out the note, which goes on to say that the Abyssinian soldiers are reduced to inactivity only by the lack of arms and ammunition. That does not mean however, that the struggle had been abandoned and an accomplished fact recognised. A proper government established by the Negus, himself, has existed in an unoccupied portion of the country and the Negus is in constant touch with his government to whom he has given the full authority for the administration of the country.—Transocean News Service

RESIST TO THE LAST

Geneva, June 27. The Negus has sent a note to the League declaring that the provisional government in Western Abyssinia is the only legitimate government in the country and that he is determined to defend Abyssinia's rights to the last. The Negus intends to apply to the League to supply the provisional Government with ammunition and money for the furtherance of the war for Abyssinia's independence.—Reuter

PRESS RECEPTION

Geneva, June 28. The Negus received the International Press on Friday afternoon in the Carlton Hotel. After having addressed several words of welcome to the pressmen in Amharic, expressing conviction that justice for his cause would procure him a hearing, his secretary read a short statement in French to the effect that in view of the fact that the Abyssinian people had been brutally attacked, the League should at least not permit the existence of the League would be imperilled. Haile Selassie would concentrate all his power on defending his just cause. His Government in Abyssinia was the only that had any legal basis for existence. The Abyssinian people has not forfeited the right to govern itself. The League of Nations has no right to support a Government that has broken the treaties entered into voluntarily and whose authority in Abyssinia is very precarious.—Transocean News Service

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENCY

Fighting Speech At Vast Open Air Meeting

ENTHUSIASTIC SCENES

Philadelphia, June 27.

In a speech unmarked by sensational pronouncement but remarkable for its fighting note on big issues of domestic policy, the President, Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, to-day accepted the Democratic Party's nomination for the presidential election.

Enthusiastic scenes took place at the National Democratic Convention where Mr. Roosevelt's nomination was proposed, and later at Franklin Field, where a huge crowd gathered to hear the President speak.

CHEERS BREAK AMPLIFIERS

Frenzied scenes were witnessed at the National Democratic Convention yesterday when President Franklin D. Roosevelt's re-nomination as the party's candidate for the presidency was proposed by Judge Mack who lauded the New Deal, saying: "Credit for all this improvement is due to our leader, his splendid Cabinet and the splendid Congress which has backed him to the last ditch."

With the nomination, every state delegation joined in a parade of the hall and galleries, roaring approval. This orgy of enthusiasm lasted for an hour. It not only broke all previous convention records, but also the electrical cheer recorder in the hall. Nevertheless, the fact that President Roosevelt is going to have a stiff fight in November's elections was indicated by the odds offered in New York, where considerable sums have been placed at 5/7 against Roosevelt's re-election.

THOUSANDS LOST IN SACKING OF CAPITAL

Djibouti, June 27. Damages and losses estimated at £100,000 were suffered by Addis Ababa firms during the three days of rioting which preceded the Italian entry. Reports from Asmara declare that Italian soldiers have occupied another two important centres. The rainy season throughout Abyssinia has begun.

It is reported from Rome that £25,000,000 for extraordinary requirements in East Africa have been authorised by a royal decree. The additional expenditure will be charged to the 1936-7 budget.—Reuter

The Aga Khan's Sind (C. Smirke) 2
Mrs. Ralph Cartwright's Al-call (Herve) 3
There were 20 starters. Won by a length and a half with a similar distance between second and third. Winner trained by Cunningham. Betting (five franc stake): Mieuxce 17.50 win, 10 place. Sind, 29.50. Alcall, 28.—Reuter

BIG BID FOR TRADE WITH GERMANY

Manchukuo Envoy In Berlin

WANTS BUSINESS

Berlin, June 27. The big effort that Manchukuo is making to increase her trade with Germany is indicated by the arrival of Mr. Kato, first official representative of Manchukuo in Berlin. Mr. Kato was officially welcomed when he arrived at the railway station.

Members of the Japanese Legation said that Mr. Kato's task was to put into operation the trade agreement reached recently between Germany and Manchukuo.

Interviewed by Reuter, Mr. Kato said that last year Manchukuo bought goods from Germany to the value of 15,000,000 yuan, while Germany's purchase of Manchukuo goods amounted to 80,000 yuan only. These were mostly soy beans.

Mr. Kato said he believed that these figures could be greatly increased and hoped that Germany would soon buy from Manchukuo 100,000,000 yuan's worth of goods. Manchukuo in return would increase her imports from Germany.—Reuter

Indeed, M. Auriol, the Minister of Finance, told the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon, that gold was now entering the country. On Wednesday 305,000,000 francs worth arrived.

He added that what was even more important was the considerable extension of the forward rates on sterling and dollars. Rentes had risen appreciably and the emission of national defence bonds had exceeded reimbursements. "The nation is pulling itself together," he observed.—Reuter

LEAGUE REFORM SUGGESTION MADE

Assembly To Meet To Discuss Dispute

ITALY WITHDRAWS

Geneva, June 27.

It is assumed here that much will be said on the subject of the reform of the League of Nations at a meeting of the League Assembly on Tuesday.

It seems likely that the Assembly will appoint a committee to report on the subject to its next meeting in September. Main business before Assembly will be consideration of Italo-Abyssinian dispute.

Soon after his arrival to-day Mr. Anthony Eden, who is presiding over the meetings of the League Council, received a request for an interview from Signor Bova Scoppa, Italian representative, who wished to see him in his capacity as President.

Mr. Eden also had interviews with the Secretary General of League, M. Avenol, the Yugoslav Minister, M. Pourrich and the Portuguese Foreign Minister, Senhor Monteiro.

REFORM QUESTION

The question of the reform of the League of Nations Covenant was raised by the Chilean representative at a private meeting of the Council here to-day.

He declared there was a real danger that their general responsibilities might involve them in a conflict in which they had no interest, direct or indirect. It must be possible, he said, for one part of humanity to remain outside of dispute even in the case of catastrophe.

NOT FAILED

M. Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian Commissar for Foreign Affairs, expressed the opinion that the League Covenant had not failed, but that the arms provided by the Covenant had not been utilised.

M. Nicholas Titulescu, Roumanian Foreign Minister, in a fighting speech, said to criticise the Covenant instead of the men who had not applied it was a profound injustice. The Little Entente, he said, would accept proposals giving more force to the Covenant but would never agree to touch the principle of equality of nations. M. Yves Delbos, the French Foreign Minister, asserted that the French Government, far from rendering the Covenant responsible for the failure, held it was in no way to blame.

AWAIT DECISION

Mr. Anthony Eden, the British Foreign Minister, suggested the Council await the Assembly's decision before taking any decisions.

Previously, Ras Nasibu, the Ethiopian general and statesman, had been invited to attend the Council, but the discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute had been adjourned until after the meeting of the Assembly, to June 30.

When the Council gathered to discuss the agenda, the Italian representative handed Mr. Eden a letter, couched in conciliatory terms, explaining why Italy was not sending a delegation to the Council and expressing confidence that an improvement in the situation would permit Italy to resume collaboration with the League.

COMMISSION OF INQUIRY. Opinions are crystallising in favour of a commission of inquiry into the League reform but already it is apparent that an overwhelming percentage of opinion favours maintenance of the covenant in its present form with a certain elasticity for interpretation of material articles.

The withdrawal of Nicaragua is regarded as evidence of the weakening ties with which South and Central American states are attached to the League. It is believed that Argentine and Chile are wavering in their allegiance.—Reuter

P. And O. Announces New Policy

MEET COMPETITION

London, June 27.

Two new P. and O. liners of the same tonnage as the Strathmore are to be built shortly and placed on the Far Eastern run.

This announcement was made to-day by an official of the P. and O. Company when replying to criticism of the company's Far Eastern service by the "Straits Times" at Singapore.

The paper stated it was humiliating for the P. and O. Company to allow foreign shipping companies to go ahead in their Far Eastern services in time and speed. The official said this was due to the heavy subsidies given by other countries to their shipping while British companies did not receive State aid.

However, he said, the P. and O. company was laying down two vessels of the same size and tonnage as the Strathmore and these would very soon be placed on the Far Eastern run.

The Strathmore did the journey from Marseilles to Bombay in the record time of 10 days on her maiden voyage to the east.

The Company's spokesman added that the speeded service would mean the landing of passengers at different ports of call at inconvenient hours of the night. The question of fuel consumption would also be a factor which would not allow the company to run the service economically unless it was subsidised like foreign companies.—Reuter signed from the Executive Committee of the League of Nations Union and membership of the Union in consequence of this Union's policy on sanctions.

Announcing his decision Mr. Chamberlain said sanctions could not restore the independence of Abyssinia. To continue sanctions still more and increase them would be futile for the purpose they were designed for and fraught with peril to the peace of Europe.—Reuter

"NO ABYSSINIA"

Press Demands Exclusion From League

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Rome, June 27.

The legality of the further participation of Abyssinia in the League of Nations session is disputed in political quarters and the press here, which openly demand the exclusion of the country from the League of Nations, since the Abyssinian Government "no longer exists."

Thus the semi-official "Giornale d'Italia" refers to Mr. Anthony Eden's statement in the House of Commons, that the Abyssinian Government has ceased to exist, and adds that the "so-called Abyssinian delegation" has therefore no legal authority to speak on behalf of the population, which has surrendered to Italy.

The delegation also could not claim to speak on behalf of the Negus, who, by leaving Abyssinian territory, relinquished the reins of Government. Ras Nasibu, says the paper, consequently only represents himself and the memory of the defunct Abyssinian Government.

EXISTENCE DENIED

The "Corriere della Sera" likewise doubts whether the League of Nations is obliged to concern itself with the claims of "Mr. Tafari," since such procedure is neither in accord with its own dignity nor justified from the juridical viewpoint.

"Abyssinia 'no longer exists.' Taking his cashbox with him, he fled in cowardly manner took to his heels because his subjects had surrendered to Italy. No one therefore has legal authority to appoint a new delegation to the League of Nations. Whether the so-called Abyssinian delegation authoritatively represents Abyssinia will therefore have to be examined by the League, and there can be no doubt as to its eventual decision," concludes the paper.—Transocean News Service

TSINGTAO HAS A RIOTOUS NIGHT

ATTEMPTS TO PUT BUILDING IN FLAMES

Tsingtao, June 27.

Allegedly due to the tension following the attacks on Japanese ships by customs cruisers, rioting broke out in the vicinity of the Customs Building to-night.

A mob of 700 Japanese attempted to seize the building and fought for half an hour with the Japanese Consular police, who finally dispersed them.

The remnants of the crowd then made towards the home of the Customs Commissioner, Mr. Campbell, and tried to rush it.

Waving flags and shouting "Down with Campbell!" the mob marched towards the Commissioner's house but was repulsed by a strong cordon of Japanese police who hastily surrounded the building.

BUILDING LOCKED

Others managed to reach the Customs Building but found that officials of the place and fled and locked the building.

The mob carried tins of kerosene and gasoline to set the building on fire but were prevented by the Japanese consular police.

Demonstrators threw bricks at the building and broke a few windows.—Reuter

INSULT TO FLAG

Japanese Protest To Foreign Office

Nanking, June 27.

A member of the Japanese Embassy to-day verbally protested to the Foreign Office regarding the Chikou and Tsingtao incidents, drawing attention to the alleged insults to the Japanese flag and pointing out that they would not be tolerated.

A Tientsin message says that the Japanese destroyer, Kiku has arrived at Tientsin from Port Arthur, bring a staff officer, Lieut. Cmdr. Ohnishi, to investigate the Chikou and Tsingtao incidents.—Reuter

ANOTHER INCIDENT

Japanese Allege Officer Was Imprisoned

Peking, June 27.

A fresh Sino-Japanese incident occurred yesterday when a Chinese detachment recovered four Chinese cavalry horses which had strayed into the Japanese barracks at Fengtai, near Peking.

Chinese sources deny the Japanese allegation that a Japanese officer sent from Peking to investigate the matter was imprisoned.

Japanese military headquarters at Tientsin are taking up the matter with Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan.—Reuter

SOLDIERS' TRIAL

Adjournment Granted Until To-day

Peking, June 27.

At the Court of Inquiry which opened yesterday into the death of a Japanese, allegedly at the hands of three British soldiers, the Crown Advocate regretted that he was unable to produce more witnesses to-day and requested an adjournment till Monday morning.

The request was granted.—Kisaku Sasaki, a Japanese officer, was found in the streets of Peking. The inquiry was opened by Mr. N. Fitzmaurice, the British Consul, at the British Embassy on Friday morning, when three British soldiers, Herbert Cooks, T. D. Parrish, and Ralph Hunt, were summoned for being concerned in disturbances on May 28-27, the night Sasaki met his death.

Mr. V. Priestwood, the Crown Advocate, appeared in the role of prosecutor, and Mr. P. H. B. Kent, of Tientsin, represented the defendants.

CRAIGENGOWER CONTINUE ITS WINNING WAY

10 Shot Victory Over The K. C. C.

HEADS SENIOR LEAGUE

Craigengower "A" lawn bowls team continued in winning vein on Saturday and further consolidated its position at the head of the Premier League Table. It was entirely due to R. F. Luz's rink (A. E. Coates, L. C. R. Souza and C. S. Rosset) that the team recorded a 10-shot victory over the Kowloon Cricket Club.

The Police, on the other hand defeated Craigengower "B" by seven shots, W. Gill being the only successful skip for the "B" men.

The clash between Kowloon Docks and Talkoo, saw Talkoo win by a single shot. C. G. Silva (skip, Recreio) suffered another reverse at the hands of J. Hollidge, but H. Alves's rink, by 32 shots to 16 against F. J. Jones' four, gave Recreio victory.

Kowloon B.G.C. as expected, defeated I.R.C., Adam Holland's rink obtaining a 23-shot margin win over A. R. Minu's four.

In the second division, Club de Recreio narrowly won from Civil Service, and is four points behind the leaders, Kowloon B. G. Club.

BALL GAMES

Puishing Beat Overseas

Reversing the defeat they suffered at the hands of the Overseas Chinese in their initial appearance in Hongkong this year, Puishing Academy defeated the Overseas lads on Saturday 11 to nil.

—Brilliant fielding and decisive methods at bat contributed to the success of the Canton nine. Coupled with the fact the C. King struck form with the ball and the Overseas men made numerous blunders in the field, the final tally is a fair indication of the respective merits of the two teams.

NO TENNIS ON WEDNESDAY

Programme For The Week

Owing to the bank holiday on Wednesday there will be no "B" Division Lawn Tennis League fixtures on that day.

C.R.C. should easily overcome Recreio who have drawn their only match this season, in the Mixed Doubles League, to-day, and K.C.C. "A" should be able to enjoy a quiet knock up against their "B" team in the only other encounter on the programme.

To-morrow, however, the match between K.C.C. and I.R.C. will be a vital one in the "A" Division. The winners, unless Recreio improve, appear to be the most serious rivals to the C.R.C. for the title the Causeway Bay Club has won for the last four years.

Following is the week's programme:—

MIXED DOUBLES

(To-day)
Recreio v. C.R.C.; K.C.C. (1) v. K.C.C. (2).

"A" DIVISION
(Tuesday)
K.C.C. v. I.R.C.; H.K.C.C. v. C.R.C. (2); S.C.A.A. v. C.R.C. (1); Recreio v. U.S.R.C.

"C" DIVISION
(Thursday)
K.I.T.C. v. S.C.C.C.; K.C.C. (2) v. C.R.C.; A.T.C. v. H.K.U.T.C.; C.C.C. v. K.T.G.C.A.; Recreio v. K.C.C. (1); S.C.A.A. v. I.R.C.

"D" DIVISION
(Friday)
K.I.T.C. v. R.S.C.; C.C.C. v. P.R.C.; S.C.A.A. v. I.R.C.; K.C.C. v. A.T.C.

RECREIO TENNIS

FURTHER PROGRESS IN TOURNAMENT

Further progress was made during the week, in the Club de Recreio annual tennis tournament, latest results being:—

First Round:—H. A. Barros beat H. A. Ribeiro 6-2, 7-5.

MEN'S DOUBLES
First Round:—A. V. Gosano and A. V. Remedios beat M. A. Oliveira and L. A. Carvalho 6-2, 8-1.

DOUBLES HANDICAP
Second Round:—C. A. Barretto and J. Gonsalves (—40) beat J. J.

VOLUNTEER SWIMMING

RECORD DID NOT STAY LONG

Danish Girl Beats U.S. Time

Copenhagen, June 27. Miss Grethe Frederiksen, the Danish swimmer, to-day established a world record for 1,500 metres freestyle. She covered the distance in 22 min. 36 7-10 sec. thus beating the figures put up on Friday by Mrs. Lenore Knight Wingard, the American.

While breaking her own time in the mile free style at New York Mrs. Wingard recorded 22.39.3 for the 1,500 metres.—Reuter.

HAPPY VALLEY GOLF

L. Goldman (7) and C. W. E. Bishop (13) won the Royal Hong Kong Golf Club Happy Valley Summer Foursomes on Saturday when they beat N. Mayhew (11) and H. H. Pethick (11) 4 and 3.

LEYLAND COMES TO THE RESCUE

Pulls England From A Dangerous Position

FIRST INDIAN TEST

London, June 27. With four wickets down for 41, England was in a bad position at the tea adjournment of the first test with India today, but was saved by a patient partnership by Leyland and Langridge.

In reply to India's 147, England had 132 for seven on the board when stumps were drawn.

A crowd estimated at 6,000 saw Allen win the toss for England and put India in on a fine wicket drying beneath the sun.

Teams were:—England:—G. O. Allen (Middlesex) (captain), R. E. S. Wyatt (Warwick), R. W. V. Robins (Middlesex), M. J. Turnbull (Glamorgan), Leyland (Yorkshire), Verity (Yorkshire), Mitchell (Yorkshire), Duckworth (Lancashire), Gimblett (Somerset), James Langridge (Sussex) and Hardstaff (Nottingham). India:—Maharajahkumar of Vizianagram (captain), Major C. K. Naidu, Wazir Ali, P. E. Palla, Amar Singh, Jehangir Khan, Mohammed Nissar, V. M. Merchant, D. R. Hindlekar, Mushtaq Ali, and C. S. Naidu. Twelfth man: S. Bannarjee.

GOOD START
India made a promising start. Merchant and Hindlekar opened cautiously and run-getting was very difficult against Allen, Wyatt, Robins, Langridge and Verity. The partnership scored 62 in 90 minutes but then came a sensational exhibition by Allen.

Speedy off the pitch he took three wickets with 11 balls from which only one run came. His first victim was Merchant, who he clean bowled for 35. In the same over Mushtaq Ali fell a victim to Langridge in the slips and then Robins bowled Hindlekar for 26, which included three fours. C. K. Naidu did not last long for he put his leg in front of a straight one from Allen.

Just before lunch, Langridge caught Amar Singh off Robins.

BIG CROWD
The crowd had increased to 15,000 after lunch. With his second ball Allen got Wazir Ali's middle stump and six were out for 97. Wazir Ali had scored 11.

Palla went out to a brilliant catch at fine leg by Mitchell off Verity for 11 and Jehangir Khan followed with a yorker by Allen for 13.

The Maharajahkumar of Vizianagram was very bold and was not out when the innings closed. His score of 19 included three fours.

Wyatt made a brilliant one-handed catch at cover to dispose of C. S. Naidu off Robins and Duckworth finished the innings when he whipped off the balls while Nissar was out of his crease. Verity was the bowler.

The total of 147 had been compiled in 130 minutes.

EARLY DISASTER
England's start was disastrous for Amar Singh was setting a fast pace and swerving dangerously. At one stage he had bowled nine overs, five of them maidens, for four wickets and 13 runs. He accounted for Mitchell, Turnbull, Wyatt and Gimblett.

With four down for 41 at tea, England's chances looked poor and were not brightened when Hardstaff fell a victim to Nissar in the first over after tea.

The advent of Leyland and Langridge however put a different complexion on the game. With patience and skill the left-handers extracted England from its perilous position. Amar Singh and Nissar by this time were not troublesome and Leyland, who was playing very confidently, defied their well balanced attack for 120 minutes. Eventually he fell a leg-before victim to Amar Singh with 60 to his credit, including five fours.

Langridge followed soon afterwards, Khan taking a low catch at short slip. He had batted for 50 minutes.

Allen and Duckworth played out time.

PERRY'S MERRY MOOD

PADGHAM WINS OPEN BY ONE STROKE

Adams Loses Through An Unlucky Putt

A. PERRY NOWHERE

London, June 27.

Runner-up in last year's contest, Alfred Padgham won the British open golf title at Hoylake today by one stroke from John Adams, Scottish open champion.

Adams was very unlucky to lose for when wanting two fours to tie with Padgham, he was bunkered at the 17th hole. His last putt hit the hole but did not go into the tin.

For the third round 62 players went out under ideal conditions. The links were bathed with sunshine and a light north-westerly wind blew. Paired with Havers, W. J. Cox, joint leader with Adams at the end of the third round, was the last to go out.

Alfred Perry, the holder, lost all hope of success when he returned an 80.

Driving from the 12th tee, Jim Ferrier, Australian champion, hit a lark on the wing and killed it stone dead. The bird was picked up by a spectator who intends to stuff it and present it to the Club.

Cotton went out in 36 but blew up and took 39 to return.

The final placings were Padgham first, followed by Adams with Cotton and d'Allemagne tying for third, Sarazen, Green and Alliss tied for fourth and Reginald Whitcombe, Lacey and Bobby Locke were together fifth.

The crowd was a record for the championship, 25,000 watching the final rounds.

DRIVES C. MALFROY OFF COURT

ANOTHER WIN FOR HELEN JACOBS

London, June 27.

Fred Perry, holder of the Wimbledon title, entered the quarter-finals of the tournament today when he eliminated C. E. Malfroy, of New Zealand.

Sunny weather replaced Friday's rain and the centre court was crammed to see Perry's light-hearted display. He overwhelmed the New Zealand Davis Cup player 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

J. Crawford (Australia) also entered the quarter-finals, beating Lee (England) 7-5, 6-4, 9-7.

Adrian Quist of Australia also won, defeating Butler 6-3, 7-5, 9-7, but the fourth Australian, Vivian McGrath went down to Grant (U.S.A.) who won 6-3, 6-4, 6-0.

The draw for the next round is Perry v. Grant, Quist v. Budge, Austin v. Allison and Crawford v. Von Cramm.

For the first time in the history of Wimbledon, all the seeded players have thus reached the last eight.

HELEN JACOBS THROUGH

Helen Jacobs, American challenger for the women's title, entered the fourth round, eliminating Countess Valdene, formerly Senorita de Alvarez 6-4, 6-3.

Senorita Lizana, the young Chilean, accounted for Mary Heeley, of England, 6-3, 6-3.

Frau Horn of Germany, won her third round encounter with Mlle. Couquerque of Holland, 6-3, 6-0.

Madame Mathieu accounted for Mrs. Ardrus 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

In the second round of the mixed doubles, Olliff and Betty Nuthall defeated Lee and Miss James 4-6, 6-2, 7-5, and Fabjan and Helen Jacobs beat Pittman and Miss Whitmarsh 6-0, 6-2.

In the women's doubles Dorothy Round and Mary Heeley (England) beat Miss Dearman and Miss Lyle 7-5, 2-6, 6-2.

SLIDES TO VICTORY
The hardy people who braved the dismal conditions which prevailed on Friday saw Austin, the British Davis Cup player, slither his way into the last eight of the men's singles, by beating the Frenchman, Martin Legay 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

Heavy rain following an overnight downpour delayed the start. Although the courts were covered with heavy tarpaulins the rain crept underneath and made the courts very greasy.

Miss Katherine Stammers scored an impressive third round win over Mme. Meulemeester of Belgium, winning 6-4, 6-0.

Mrs. Allister of South Africa and Miss Betty Nuthall of England, playing together in the women's doubles enjoyed a notable triumph when they beat the American Wightman Cup pair, Miss Caroline Babcock and Mrs. Van Ryn 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Nellie Adamson of Belgium and Mary Handwicke of Great Britain entered the last 16 of the women's singles.

PROGRAMME UPSET

The rain entirely disorganised the programme, only four courts being fit for play.

Wilmer Allison (America) won his fourth-round contest against C. M. Jones (England) 10-8, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5, and will meet H. W. Austin (England) in the quarter-finals.

G. von Cramm (Germany) defeated E. Maler (Spain), 10-8, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2, and D. Budge (America) accounted for J. Cuska (Czechoslovakia).

J. Crawford and A. Quist, Australian holders of the doubles title, and Fred Perry and Dorothy Round (England), mixed doubles champions, had easy victories.

Crawford and Quist accounted for Gordon Lum and Kho Sin-kie (China) 6-1, 6-2, 6-4. The Chinese were outclassed although Lum often approached brilliance with his crafty network. Kho, however, was erratic and won only one service.

I. G. Cunningham (America) and E. Ivon (Japan) won their second-round encounter of the doubles against Tan Collins (England) and H. Surface (America), 4-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

In the third round of the women's singles, Freda James (England) beat Joan Saunders (England) 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, and Mlle. Jedrejowska (Poland) beat Mrs. R. M. King (England) 6-3, 6-2.
